BEAUTIFUL GOWNS WORN AT INAUGURAL BALL LAST NIGHT ADD MUCH BRILLIANCY TO THE SCENE IN PENSION BUILDING.

STRIKING COSTUMES OF MRS. TAFT AT THE INAUGURAL SUPPER TABLES AND MRS. SHERMAN ARE GREATLY ADMIRED.

lasting confidence and esteem of a goodly portion of the American public at his inaugural ball when he varied from the custom of practically every one of his predecessors, and last night spent the entire evening in the ballroom. With Mrs. Taft and a number of especially invited guests, the President remained to his how in the ballroom, in full view evergreens and through them were twined red rambler roses. The band stand at the extreme east end of the building was partitioned off from the body of the hall by a gold wire netting.

The most distinctive feature of the decorations was the method of illuminating the hall. Eighteen huge chandeliers hung from the ceiling and in these were 125 electric lights in frosted globes under reflectors in the shape of white rosettes. At either side of the in his box in the ballroom, in full view of the thousands in attendance throughout the evening, except for a little morfe than half an hour when the party was Mrs. Taft's Ball Gown.

That the thousands who were massed, in the arcade were delighted with the husband's inaugural ball one of the was the occasion of a tremendous ovaturned his head, raised his hand or golden rod, the national flower. The again burst into prolonged applause. Second only to her distinguished husband in interest was Mrs. Taft, who a band of cloth of silver, embroidered over the great sea of faces that stretchboys of the family, with their young mond spray in her hair. relatives, enjoyed the show immensely.

Brilliancy of Ball.

There was no question in the minds of those at the ball last night who had attended similar events in the past that the Taft inaugural ball was by far the most brilliant event of its kind in history. The great rotunda, which occupies practically the entire length and width of the building was literally packed with beautifully gowned women, men n evening dress, and officers of the ernment in their bright full dress uniforms. The decorations surpassed those President's Arrival.

It was a few minutes past 9 o'clock when word was received that the Pres- Handsome Gowns Worn. ident had arrived. Members of the floor with "The Star-Spangled Banner" as Gist Blair and Thomas F. Walsh, of the Roor committee appeared from the left in her hair, about her throat, and at gian minister, and one of the handsomof the President's box. Immediately be-hind them came the President and Mrs. her corsage.

Taft, and a great cheer went up from Mrs. Philander C. Knox, wife of the est women in the corps, were a stunknowledgments.

Prom that time until the President and Mrs. Taft left the hall, which was nearly midnight the attention of the great throng was focused on the Presidential box. Mrs. Taft bowed to acquaintances she saw in the crowd and frequently during the evening Mrs. Sherman appeared at the front of the box and waved her hand to friends on the members of the Roosevelt Cabinet.
They were Mrs. Bacon, wife of the members of the Roosevelt Cabinet.
They were Mrs. Bacon, wife of the members of the Roosevelt Cabinet.
They were Mrs. Bacon, wife of the retiring Secretary of State, in a strikingly handsome costume of lilac velocity. With some gorgeous diamond or naments.

Mrs. Cimon Guggenheim's gown was of black velvet, made princess style, with a bolero effect of cloth of gold embroidered in pank, and pearl ornaments.

Mrs. Herrarte, wife of the minister of Guatemala, wore cream chiffon, beautifully embroidered in shaded champagne this, with gold spangles, and tention to some of their old friends and tention to some of the retiring Secretary of State, in a strikingly handsome costume of lilac velve and point lace, with an ecklace of diamonds.

Mrs. Albert Mr

were the relatives and immediate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Taft and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman. In the galleries just back of the box were gathered the Diplomatic Corps, members of the Roosevelt Cabinet and their wives, the Superment Court, and practically the entire smart world at Washington. On all sides were heard everyessions of admired the properties of the Successful of the Mrs. She was accompanied by her daughter.

In the box with the Presidential party maments; with her was Miss Bacon, in a diamonds.

Debutante's Gowns.

Miss de Lagercrantz and Miss Mary de Lagercrantz, daughters of the Swedish minister, who are counted among the most charming of the season's the most charming of the season's debutantes, were respectively, an emission of the season's debutantes, were respectively, an emission of the season's debutantes.

Supper rooms for the President and his party were reserved in the north-west corner of the building. The President and Mrs. Taft with their specially invited guests left the box about 10:15 o'clock and went to the supper room. There were sixty-four guests in the

There were sixty-four guests in the party.

When the President withdrew from his box the crowd on the first floor turned its attention to the hall, its decorations, lights, and the music program. A platform has been erected Mrs. Garfield's Gown. at the east end of the building for Mrs. Garfield, wife of the Secretary dancing. It was crowded throughout of the Interior, was handsomely gowned where several members of the President was well taken care of.

When the Presidential party came out of the supper room they returned to the box for five minutes or so and their reappearance was again the occasion of a popular demonstration. The great wave of humanity surged toward the west end of the building and the President was cheered again and again. Shortly afterward the President left the box, shaking hands with those he suite and in fitteen minutes Mr. and Mrs. Taft were ready to leave. They returned at once to the White House, where several members of the Taft and Herron families were guests.

A Fairy Picture.

The Pension Building last night was a veritable fairy picture. The walls of the building were covered in evergreen and the pillars, which had been tinted gold, were festooned in smilax and gold with effective touches of point lace and a dog collar of pearls. She were diamond that seed pearls. She were diamond the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, was handsomely over an underdress of pale pink satin, and she wore some rare pearl, diamond, and emerald ornaments.

Mrs. Straus, wife of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, was handsomely gowned in white alberty satin embroiders, over an underdress of pale pink satin, and she wore some rare pearl, diamond, and emerald ornaments.

The Diplomatic Corps was unusually well represented at the bail. Among the foreign contingent were Baroness Mayor desired the proposal of the Italian Ambassador, in a regal robe of white satin, entbroidered in silver, and brocaded in pink and blue, the pasted green. The flowing lines of the satin, entbroidered in silver, and brocaded in pink and blue, the pasted green silk moussaline embroiders.

The Pension Building last night was a veritable fairy picture.

The Pension Building last night was a veritable fairy picture and proposal p gold, were festioned in smilax and asparagus vines. At the base of each pillar on the second and third corridors were great clusters of growing crimson azaleas. These flower boxes also served as brackets for a cluster of twenty electric lights.

She were a diamond thara, and a dog-gown of black silk velvet, with touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of black silk velvet. With touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Rufus S. Day, daughter-in-law of Justice Day, were an empire gown of Justice Day, wer The President's box was decorated in attache of the Brazilian embassy, of point applique face, made over sea-

William Howard Taft earned the ever-jevergreens and through them were estal holding a brilliant ball of light

Mrs. William Howard Taft will go down in history as having worn at her action of the President in remaining most beautiful ball gowns ever worn by with them, was manifest at all times. a President's wife. It was an empire Mr. Taft's initial appearance in the box model of white chiffon, over a foundation of rich white satin, heavily emtion, and thereafter if the new President broidered in a conventional design of smiled, the crowd downstairs would top of the bodice was finished with touches of rare old point lace, and the high waist line was emphasised by sat beside the President and looked out in crystals. The short sleeves were also of the point lace. With this she wore ed before her through the length of the a dog collar of pearls and diamonds big building. Miss Helen Taft and the and a white bird of paradise and dia-

> Mrs. Charles P. Taft. sister-in-law of the President-elect wore a gown that created considerable favorable comment. It was an exquisite empire costume of pale blue satin, embroidered in pearls both on the bodice and at the bottom of the skirt, besides panels of pearl embroidery at either side. She wore a diamond spray in her hair and a diamond necklace and corsage orna-

Mrs. Albert Ingalls, daughter of Mr. dilitary and naval branches of the Gov- and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, wore a white satin princess gown heavily embroidered wore a gown of turquoise blue green satin with diamond and opa in pearls, with effective touches of panne velvet with bands of Byzantine ornaments.

conforming to the requirements of the cocasion and appearing in evening dress. The big orchestra of 125 pieces, under the direction of Sol Minster, and the United States Marine Band, under the leadership of Lieutenant Santelmann, played a concert program from 8 to 9

Mrs. Horace Taf: was handsomely attired in white satin and rare old lace with diamond ornaments.

Next in importance to Mrs. Taft of the German embassy, wore a gown committee took their places along the was Mrs. Sherman, the charming wife of white satin, heavily embroidered in gown of white chiffon silk, trimmed gold with effective touches of lace on broidered in gold with a necklace and broidered in gold with a necklace the hall. The Marne Band burst forth ball gown was a handsome costume the people. Accompanying the President and Mrs. Taft were Edward J. Stellwagen, chairman of the Inaugural Committee, and Milton E. Alles, chairman of the ball committee.

lomatic Corps, members of the Roosevelt Cabinet and their wives, the Supermet Court, and practically the entire smart world at Washington. On all sides were heard expressions of admiration for the brilliant manner in which the ball had been arranged.

Supper Served.

Supper Served.

War. were a becoming costume of amethyst satin embroidered in gold. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Day Palmer, in a gown of white satin embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns of white satin embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns touches of rare lace and gold; and white and many striped satin and lace. Mrs. Gude, wife of the infinister of with silver embroidery.

Mrs. Porier J. McCumber wore a directoire gown of white satin trimmed with silver embroidery.

Mrs. Could be most charming of the season's debutantes, wore, respectively, an embroid ered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns debutantes, wore a beautiful gown of white satin combined with sloveness or rare lace and gold; and white and many striped satin and lace.

Mrs. Could be most charming of the season's debutantes, wore respectively, an embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns debutantes, wore respectively, an embroid ered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns debutantes, wore a few for the infinite of white satin trimmed with touches of rare lace and gold; and white and many striped satin and lace.

Mrs. Could be most charming of the season's debutantes, wore respectively, an embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns debutantes, wore respectively, an embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the retirns debutantes, wore respectively, an embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the minister of white and many striped satin and lace.

Mrs. Could be most charming of the season's debutantes, wore respectively, an embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Bonaparte, wife of the minister of white and many striped satin and lace.

Mrs. Could be most charming of th dancing. It was crowded throughout the vening.

The President and his party were at supper nearly an hour. Entrance to the supper room were guarded by the Secret Service men who were on duty at the back of the box during the evening. Chief Wilkie was on that the President was well

Mrs. Sherman Mr. Stellwagen Mrs. Taft. Postmaster General Mever Mrs. Bacon Vice President Sherman Miss Boardman Senator Knox

Mrs. Knox

Secretary Bacon Mrs. C. P. Taft Miss Catherine Anderson Thomas M. Sherman Mrs. Mever Albert Ingalls

TABLE NO. 3.

TABLE NO. 4.

Mrs. H. W. Taft Lieutenant Commander Palmer Mrs. Bonaparte Gist Blair

Walbridge Taft Mrs. Shervill Sherman

Mrs. Horace D. Taft Arthur C. Moses Miss Stranahan H. W. Taft Mrs. Knox Mr. Hitchcock pearls and rubles.

Countess Wedel wife of the compselo the bodice and sleeves. She wore a

TABLE NO 5 Attorney General Bonaparte Mrs. Edwards Richard Sherman Miss Louise Taft (C. P.)

Prof. More Mrs. Thomas M. Sherman Rebert Taft Miss Wilby

TABLE NO. 6.

Secretary Straus Mrs. Newberry Horace D. Taft Mrs. Bromwell Miss Janie Anderson Shervill Sherman Mrs. Albert Ingalis

TABLE NO. 7

Secretary Newberry Mrs. Charles Anderson Dr. Edwards Mlss Wilson Colonel Bromwell Miss Louise Taft (H. W.) Miss Delia C. Torrey

TABLE NO. 8.

Secretary Wilson Mrs. Wright -Howard Taft Miss Harriett Anderson Captain Butt Miss Helen Taft Mr. Carpenter Miss Ellinor Miller Lieutenant Read forms. The decorations surpassed those of all previous occasions of the kind and the scheme of illumination was without a flaw. These things combined to make the ball an occasion to be remembered throughout their lives by those who attended the function.

The President and his party reached the building a few minutes after 9 o'clock. In the time preceding the arrival of the President, the hall had filled with thousands of visitors, every one conforming to the requirements of the corasion and appearing in evening dress.

In pearls, with effective touches of the top of the softening the top of the bodice to diacond the scheme of illumination was bodice and the sleeves.

Miss Anna Louise Taft, the younger daughter of the house, wore pale pink chiffon over pink satin, also made embroidery and gold lace.

Baroness Takahira, wife of the Japanese ambassador, wore a robe of point lace over white satin, made empire, with elbow sleeves of ruffles of lace over white satin, with elbow sleeves of ruffles of the German ambassador, was beautifully gowned in heavy banked the building a few minutes after 9 o'clock. In the time preceding the arrival of the President, the hall had filled with thousands of visitors, every one conforming to the requirements of the crossing the conforming to the requirements of the crossing the conformal provider of the house, wore pale pink chiffon over pink satin, also made empire, with elbow sleeves of ruffles of the Japanese Takahira, wife of the J same color and trimmed with effective monds.

> Mme. you Livonius, wife of the mili- Mrs. William E. Borah's gown was of black satin embroidered in gold. Her guest, an empire gown of cream lace guest, Miss Tonna, of Idaho, were white man of the ball committee.

Mrs. M. Gray Zalinski wore a beau fiful gown of black tulie embroidere in gold draped over pale blue satin with diamond ornaments. Mrs. Zalinski

Behind the President and Mrs. Taft were the Vice President and Mrs. Sherman, and following them were the fortysic special aides appointed from the different States as a guard of honor to the President at the ball.

The procession led around the fountiain in the center of the hall and back to the west entrance, the Presidential party going at once to the presidential party goi The procession led around the lour ain in the center of the hall and back to the west entrance, the Presidential party going at once to the President's box, where for more than an hour they faced the great throng in the ballroom.

Strike Popular Chord.

The President struck a popular chord in the public's fancy when, after having received his own ovation, he and Mrs. Taft stepped back from the front of the box and gave the places of honor to the box and gave the place of honor to the box and gave the place of honor to the box and gave the place of honor to the box and gave the place of honor to the box and gave the place of honor the plac rench lace. Her house guest, Miss satin Congressional Circle.

Care of The Refrigerator. Too great care can scarcely be used in keeping the refrigerator perfectly clean. All crumbs should be removed and if liquids are spilled they should be wiped up at once. In summer especially frequent and thorough cleanings are required. Empty the water pan and remove all food, covering it from the dust. Remove shelves; scrub them with a brush in hot suds made by dissolving a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in warm water. Dry with a cloth or in the sunshine if possible. Scrub all parts of the food chamber, even the inside of the door with the hot suds; rinse in clear water, wipe dry and leave open to air. Scrubice chamber thoroughly: scald wastepipe with boiling suds made from Gold Dust washing powder. Scrub water pan and replace the paris. It is necessary to clean food chamber more frequently than ice compartment, waist and sleeves heavily embroidered in cut jet.

D. C. Nugent, of St. Louis, in white

Mrs. Edwin C. Burleigh, a handsome gown of Irish lace combined with white satin and marquisette striped material, handsomely trimmed with silver spangles. Her jewels were a handsome necklace of pgarls and diamonds.

Mrs. W. J. Cary, empire gown of black silk net over messaline satin and chiffon.

Mrs. John C. Chaney was handsomely gowned in white satin ornamented with crystal head bandings, and her jewels were pearls. Her daughter, Mrs. Lee Fenton Bays, wore a becoming gown of peach blow messaline satin with richly embroidered panels in the front and back. She wore long pearl and dia-mond pendant earrings and a necklace of diamonds.

20wn of yellow satin, with go. 1 fringe and iridescent applique. Miss Marian Chapman wore a directoire gown of pale Chapman wore a directoire gown of pale blue satin and duchesse lace. Mrs. W. S. Williams, of Ashland, Ill., who is visiting them, wore a princess gown of heliotrope satin with handsome trimming of beaded fringe.

Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, a sheath gown of black net heavily jetted, over white satin with a directoire sash of white satin with a directoire sash of pale green and diamond ornaments. pale green and diamond ornaments. Miss Ide, black jetted lace over black Directoire Gown.

Mrs. George Washington Cook word a beautiful directoire gown of white satin embroidered in silver with diamond tiara and corsage ornaments of diamonds. Her house guest, Mrs. Edward Kassler, of Denver, Col., who accompanied her, were a directoire gown Princess Gown. of yellow satin with topaz and diamond

Mrs. Henry A. Cooper was in black and pearl necklace and corsage ornaesentative Cooper, wore a directoire own of white satus, trimmed with gold Miss Florence Stratton, her house street, who wore white lace trimmed with gold, and Miss Virginia Longstreet in an empire gown of pale blue satin.

Mrs. Lillian B. Cravens, of Arkansas, toire; her guests. Miss Preston, of Pasa-Mrs. Lillian B. Cravens, of Arkansas, toire; her guests, Miss Preston, of Pasa-wore a beautiful white lace robe with dena, Cal., were a directoire gown of mrs. Tin othy T. Ansberry, wore a handsome princess gown of white satin pearl and diamond ornaments. Mrs. Edgar D. Crumpacker, a directoire gown of pole blue satin. Mrs. Edgar D. Crumpacker, a directoire gown of pale blue satin. Mrs. David A. DeArmond, a directoire gown of pale blue satin. Mrs. Robert F. Broussard, a directoire gown of pink roses. Her fewels were diamonds and opals and in her cofffura a wreath of tiny pink and gold. Mrs. Edwin C. Burleigh, a handsome gown of Irish lace combined with white gown of Irish lace combined with white mond ornaments.

BRAVE DISPLAY OF JEWELS MAKES

Who were pale blue cannon crept and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Edgar D. Crumpacker, a directoire gown of apricot satin trimmed with gold lace and diamond ornaments. Mrs. David A. DeArmond, a directoire gown of white messaline trimmed with duchesse lace with yoke and front panels of gold idiamond ornaments.

Mrs. Boxid A. DeArmond, a directoire diamond ornaments. Mrs. Philip Knopf, princess gown of taupe velvet, handsomely braided and trimmed on corsage with effective touches of black in the shape for the pole blue satin directoire gown of duchesse lace, and Miss Marisia Lenahan, a directoire fective touches of black in the shape of the pole blue satin directoire gown of duchesse lace, and Miss Marisia Lenahan, a directoire fective touches of black in the shape of the pole blue satin directoire gown of duchesse lace, and Miss Marisia Lenahan, pale blue satin directoire mornaments.

Mrs. Edgar D. Crumpacker, a directoire with pearls and granders.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with satin with planted with poles and error panels.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with satin with planted with poles and companients.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with pearls of miss Reperson naments.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with pearls of miss Reperson naments.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with pearls of miss Reperson naments.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with pearls of miss Nancy Johnson, with pearls of miss Reperson naments.

Mrs. Ben Johnson with pearls of miss Nancy Johnson with pearls of miss Nancy Johnson with pearls of miss Reperson naments

Mrs. Lincoln Dixon, a directoire gown n gold. Miss Claire Dixon, pale yellow Mrs. John W. Dwight wore an empire

Mrs. Charles N. Fowler wore silvery gray brocaded satin trimmed with silver embroidery. Mrs. Charles N. Fowler, jr., wore black jrt over black trimmed with point d'Alencen lace. Mrs. Oscar W. illespie, white lace touches of pink and gold embroidery, over white satin. Miss Gillespie wore white satin heavily embroidered in gold.

Mrs. James C. Needham, 2, 2000, of Mrs. Herman P. Goebel, cream colored satin with panel and trimmings of gold and white lace. Miss Nellie Goebel, pale blue satin and white lace.

Mrs. George W. Gordon, princess gown white satin and lace. Mrs. William H. Graham, princess own of brocaded pink satin and Lama ace, with diamond ornaments. Mrs. Kittredge Haskins, pale blue atin, with garlands of pink rose buds.

Mrs. William M. Haward, white brocostume of white net embroidered in caled satin with pearl and diamond ornaments. She had with her house guests, Mrs. F. B. Long-street, who were white lace trimmed white satin orramented about the correct white satin with pearl and diamond ornaments.

D. C. Nugent, of St. Louis, in white satin embroidered in rhinestones; Miss Louise Nugent, in white satin with the corsage embroidered in crystals, and Mrs. J. L. Loose, of Kansas City, Mo., in pale blue satin embroidered in beads of the same color.

Mrs. John A. M. Adair wore easturtium rajah satin, made directoire style, with crystal trimmings and golden brown and yellow hand-embroidery trimming on the corsage, with a lace panel down the front.

Mrs. Theothy T. Ansberry, wore a handsome princess gown of white satin white satin white chiffon crepe and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Edgar D. Crumpacker, a directories with pearl ornaments; Miss Nancy with pearl ornaments; Miss Nancy with pearl ornaments; Miss Nancy old rose point and diamond and sapphile ornaments.

Mrs. A. C. Cover, of Seattle, her house

Mrs. John W. Dwight wore an empire gown of white satin trimmed with silver passementerle and Venetian point lace; pearls.

Mrs. Edgar C. Ellis, pink chiffon over rose figured satin, made empire, trimmed with lace bertha and bands of pink satin bordered with black French knots.

Mrs. George W. Fairchild, was in a striking sem-empire gown of blue velvet embroidered in the same shade with an intricate design of silver, interwoven.

mond pendant earrings and a necklace of diamonds.

Mrs. Pleasant T. Chapman, an empire bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves, with diamond ornations of yellow satin, with go. fringe bodice and sleeves and yellow satin.

Mrs. George Foss, directoire gown of white satin brocade, hand embroidered in gold with a festooned necklace.

Mrs. David J. Foster, gold-colored satin embroidered and trimmed with fringe and touches of gold lace. Miss Mabel Foster wore an empire gown of pomapdour silk with lace trimmings and pink directoire sash, and Miss Ethel Foster wore a white satin gown with gold trimmings.

Mrs. Edmund H. Madison, black chiffon over pale blue satin with spangled net and pink and blue embroidery. Her house guest, Mrs. Henry Hurt, of Quincy, Ill., pink chiffon over pink satin, embroidered in gold.

Satin Directoire.

Mrs. Edmund H. Madison, black chiffon over pale blue satin with spangled net and pink and blue embroidery. Her house guest, Mrs. Henry Hurt, of Quincy, Ill., pink chiffon over pale blue satin with spangled net and pink and blue embroidery. Her house guest, Mrs. Henry Hurt, of Quincy, Ill., pink chiffon over pale blue satin with spangled net and pink and blue embroidery. Her house guest, Mrs. Henry Hurt, of Quincy, Ill., pink chiffon over pink satin, embroidered in gold.

Satin Directoire.

Mrs. Edmund H. Madison, black chiffon over pale blue satin with spangled net and pink and blue embroidery. Her house guest, Mrs. Henry Hurt, of Quincy, Ill., pink chiffon over pink satin, embroidered in gold.

Satin Directoire.

upper part of bodice of silver embroid-

Mrs. J. Hampton Moore, pale blue messaline, princess, with a long train; the bodice trimmed with effective

Mrs. James C. Needham, a gown of mauve satin directoire, with tunic to the knees of mauve and silver tricotine, finished with a fringe of silvered beads and spangles, with the bodice elab-orately embroidered in silver.

Imperial Imported Gown.

Mrs. J. Van Vechten Olcott wore an imported gown of rich pink satin embroidered almost all over in soft grav tones, a diamond collar and corsage ornaments and a spray of diamonds in Mrs. Edwin Higgins, a directoire gown her coiffure completed the tollette. of white meteor sattn crepe with silver

Mrs. Charles N. Pray, a directoire gown of soft blue satin trimmed in

Mrs. Joseph L. Rhinock, a callot gown of gold cloth with amber trimmings and diamond and pearl ornaments; Miss Laura Rhinock, pink chiffon; and their house guests, Mrs. Henry M. Zeigler of Cincinnati, who wore

(Continued on Eighth Page.)

RECEIVERS' SALE

Women's Fine Outerwear At 50c on Dollar!

ALL THE NEW SPRING STYLES

95 Women's Tailored Suits at $14.75 Actual Values up to $30.00

Materials are plain and fancy serges, chevron serges, and novelty cloths, in all the newest models, including the popular 3-piece models so much in demand—all the most desirable colors of the season—not a suit worth less than $25.00, and many actual $30.00 suits in the lot.

56 Women's Tailored Suits at $18.75 Actual Values up to $35.00

These suits represent the very newest ideas both in styles and materials. The lot includes fine French serges, shepherd checks, striped serges, and a few imported worsteds in desirable patterns; values up to $35.00.

Women's Lingerie Waists at $1.98 Actual Values up to $5.00

Handsome Waists made of fine imported batiste, trimmings of fine embroidery or insertions. Also a few fine linen tailored waists; actually worth up to $5.00.

Women's Novelty Coats at $6.75 Actual Values up to $16.50

Over 100 Coats to choose from; materials are handsome novelty cloths in medium colorings; over a dozen styles in the lot. Actually reduced from $15.00 and $16.50.

NOTE-No goods charged, sent on approval, or C. O. D. Owing to limited facilities, it will be impossible to make alterations.

Sale Conducted by Receivers for J. G. Pattee @ Company 1331 G Street N. W.